Next View Software & Open Sky Group Announce Alliance

Combined experience of both organizations provides customers with tremendous depth of supply chain software implementation, consulting, training and support capabilities with minimal risks and costs

Orange, CA – Next View Software announced today that it has formed a Consulting and Implementation alliance with The Open Sky Group, LLC.

“The Open Sky Group has tremendous experience in the supply chain software market and we are pleased to be working with them. Combining the capabilities and experience of The Open Sky Group with the power and flexibility of Next View’s software solutions results in a product/service offering that is very compelling in terms of innovation, delivered value and total cost of ownership,” said Steve Simmerman, Business Development leader for Next View Software, Inc.

“Our decision to partner with Next View was simple. Next View offers flexible, scalable and innovative solutions that our clients are looking for”, said Curt Sardeson, Managing Principal, The Open Sky Group. “We are seeing demands from our clients for adding to their existing supply chain software platform, replacing older technology, as well as demand from first time WMS/LMS users. Next View’s web-based, On-Demand solutions built upon 20+ years of industry experience reflect the kind of value that The Open Sky Group looks to bring to our customers. Together with Next View we can deliver fantastic real-life experience, innovative software solutions while minimizing costs and risks for our clients. We can deliver “Tier 1” software and services at a fraction of the cost.”

Next View Software is revolutionizing the way that supply chain practitioners use technology to continually improve their supply chain management and productivity. Next View’s On-Demand Warehouse and Labor Management & Productivity solutions provide customers with powerful management and analytical tools at a compelling Total Cost of Ownership. Next View Live provides unmatched, leading edge visibility across the entire supply chain. “The supply chain market is comprised of several key segments including existing WMS users that are looking to augment their supply chain software platform with Labor Management or other solutions such as Next View Live, those looking to replace aging systems as well as companies that are looking to implement WMS or LMS for the first time. The Open Sky Group serves these market segments extremely well and are perfect complement to our innovative software offerings,” continued Simmerman.
